Questions, Information, Ideas and Challenges Arising out of the Group's Discussion

- How can we redirect some of the easier/known call subjects to an alternative outside of ED? What can be done in the field to make a safe assessment and potentially keep the call-subject out of the ED? Can we insert medical assessment option early in the decision tree out in the field?
  - DBH will be having the JSCO navigator and DCRs working together to cover needs in the field with call-subjects.
  - The new DBH Recovery Navigator program will be coming online end of 2021/beginning of 2022. The Summit Team can work together at this table to ensure this new program is optimally integrated.
  - Navigators can bring a call subject to DBH door for walk-in crisis counseling from 8am-5pm Monday through Fridays. This service provides a room with couch, etc.
  - Brinnon Fire has a holding room that is used as a safe space for walk-in patients until service connection/transport takes place.
  - Medical clearance to send someone to a "inpatient bed" cannot be done in the field at this time.
- Explore where EMS can appropriately use a medical response to excited delirium? Opportunity exists for RAD protocol training that covers the roles for all responding team members, where violations occur, etc.
- Believe in Recovery has clothing bank w/ dry clothes and washer/dryer facilities as needed.
- Opportunity exists to clarify the various layers of behavioral health services that have similar names and to create a roadmap for whom to call for what.
- Explore Mason County's Quick Response Team service that Peninsula Health has a contract to provide. They provide a Van and do the transport. Laurie Tinker interested in supporting research around viable transport options.
